

Approximately 30 major pharmaceutical firms worldwide have spent a combined $112bn on R&D in 2013, an increase of $723m compared to the previous year, according to research and consulting firm GlobalData.

read full article