

Uber agrees to suspend service in Portland for 3 months

Friday, 19 December 2014 08:08

Less than two weeks after the ride-hailing app Uber launched in Portland without officials' approval, the company said it is suspending operations for three months to work out its differences with the city.

read full article