

Google Apps Launcher Will Soon Include Docs, Slides, and Sheets

Written by

Friday, 19 December 2014 08:08 -

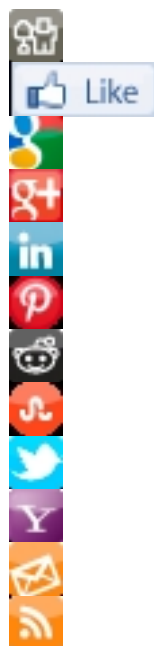

More

The Google Apps launcher for consumer accounts now includes a direct link to Google Docs. If you don't Docs as one of your first nine icons in the launcher, you can drag and drop it into position. In a couple of weeks Google Apps for Edu users will have a similar option. Docs, Slides, and Sheets will be available to launch with one click from from the Apps launcher.

This isn't a huge update to Google Apps for Education, but it could make launching into Docs, Slides, and Sheets a little easier for new users. You should also be aware that this update will move the Contacts icon from the launcher to the "more" menu under the icons.

Source: Google Apps Update blog.

This post originally appeared on Free Technology for Teachers if you see it elsewhere, it has been used without permission

Related Stories

Google Apps Launcher Will Soon Include Docs, Slides, and Sheets

Written by

Friday, 19 December 2014 08:08 -

- Now You Can Use Custom Avatars in Google Classroom Profiles
- How to Enable and Set Limits on Your Google Forms
- Have Older Google Forms? They Will Soon Be Updated Automatically

read full article